

THE GLOBAL AIRPORT INVESTORS DATABASE

Following on from the popular management reports 'World Airport Privatisation 2008 & Beyond' (September 2008) and 'World Airport Privatisation Update 2009' (May 2009), Big Pond Aviation's David Bentley has produced what is probably the most comprehensive and powerful tool ever published for anyone involved in airport financing.

The Global Airport Investors Database (GAID) is an ever-growing report comprising seven columns and over 325 lines of critical data in an easy-to-use Excel spreadsheet format – company data (location, contact, website); current investments; previous investments/failed or lapsed bids; future/potential investments/sales; recent financial results 2009/2010 (where published). It is cross – referenced throughout.

Ensure you are knowledgeable and prepared for the recovery in this sector. Know exactly who the investors are, their preferences and whether they are increasing or decreasing their presence in the airport sector.

Are you:

A single or multiple airport operator; national, regional or local government or private organisation seeking investors in your airport(s); investment bank; pension fund; venture capitalist; private equity fund; hedge fund; sovereign wealth fund; financial intermediary/deal arranger; legal firm active in aviation; architectural firm active in aviation; airline considering investing in airports; other transport sector firm considering investing in airports; aviation industry supplier?

If you answer 'yes' to any of these, then this report is for you. In fact - can you afford to be without it? The base price of US$1750 is probably less than one tenth of what it would cost a company to research it!

Researched, written and published by David J Bentley, author of:

- Asia airport Cap Ex report (2011)
- World Airport Privatisation Update (2009)
